

LYDIA SNOW
NORTH HALTON

Lydia Snow was born in 1918 and grew up in Ballinafad, Ontario. After graduating from Toronto Normal School in 1937, Lydia taught for fourteen years in rural one-room schools, before becoming the itinerant Home Economics teacher for Nassagaweya Township. Lydia then taught Home Economics in Burlington until her retirement from Tecumseh P.S. in 1975. Lydia served as local president of FWTAO and for her many OASWT/RWTO contributions she received honorary membership.

In February 1999, Lydia sought the help of twelve others to form the North Halton Branch. Lydia passed away before the new branch could be formed, but under Joanne Mackie's leadership, in December 1999, the new branch became official and was named after Lydia who had been instrumental in its inception.

The branch adopted the colour purple after Lydia, a seller of purple cloth in the Bible.
